

↳ BENAZIR BHUTTO (2nd Tenure) (1993-1996)

↳ SUCCESS :-

- PPP in 1993 campaigned for '6 Agenda of change?' Benazir announced that position of women to be improved.
- she announced plans for women police station, women's court, & women's development.
- She showed concern for women's social and health issues including the issue of discrimination.
- separate ministry for 'women' affairs? was setup.
- she promised to follow transparent privatization policies.
- Efforts were made to increase energy supply by 7%.
- Hub river project & Ghazi Bathora Project were started.
 - *This encouraged foreign & investors to invest in power projects.
- Computer centres for women were started which enabled women to get better jobs & start a new business.

- Despite US sanctions and international pressure she refused to roll back the nuclear program.

* She even announced full support for it by guaranteeing protection & development.

- Operation Clean up was continued in Karachi to end the terrorist activities

- Police & Rangers was used to arrest people involved in terrorism and target killing.

- This restored law & order in Karachi

* Port Qasim was extended

* 600 new post offices were built.

* Pakistan Steel Mill was extended, its production ~~was~~ also increased.

* Balochistan Steel Mill ~ Started.

* Plant of Suzuki ~ Started.

* Acquired F-16 from ~ USA.

↳ FAILURES:-

- Bad relations with family caused loss for Benazir's govt.
- Benazir had differences with her mother Begam Nusrat Bhutto who favoured her son Mir Murtaza.
- Nusrat wanted Murtaza to lead PPP instead Benazir.
- Mir Murtaza founded Ali-Zulfiqar Org. to work against Benazir. He used criticize her on going against ZA Bhutto's policies.
- He also opposed Zardari's involvement in politics and he was accused of corruption.
- Later in 1996, Murtaza was assassinated in mysterious police ambush.
 - No police officer involved ~~was~~ was charged, infact some of them were promoted.

↳ A judicial ANALYSIS says govt's involvement in this incident

* This whole issue damaged Benazir's image & political career.

L

- favouritism ~ judicial appointments of High Post were not done on seniority and merit. rather favouritism took place. This caused President Laghari to dismiss PM.
- High inflation with heavy debts, caused by government's uncontrolled spending & increased burden on economy
 - * Economic Policies weren't producing desirable result.
 - Benazir was directly & solely blamed for it, as she took charge of eco policies herself.
- Little or no work was done in education, due to lack of budget allocation.
- Great opposition by PML in form of train march and wheel Jam. To stop this Benazir had to do several arrests but this worsened the situation. This political instability caused dismissal of govt.
- Sectarian clashes - (Suni-Shia) - conflict increased
- There was nepotism, corruption, violation of rules and massive malpractices. Close friends & family was ruling party. Zardari was accused of money laundering, corruption and getting heavy commission in doing govt projects.
